

Week 3: College Course Expectations

Topic Focus

What is needed to be successful in a concurrent course?

Conducting regular check-ins with the student provides support and opportunity for the student to ask questions. It is beneficial to review with the student any upcoming assessments, papers, or projects and also ensure that the student has turned in any assignments that have already been due for the course.

Discussion Starters

Consider starting the discussion by asking:

- Have you turned in all assignments so far?
- Do you have a dedicated time to study for your course(s)?
- Are you aware of any major assignments that are upcoming?

Discussion Questions

To guide this week's discussion, consider asking some of the following questions:

- Do you have a dedicated time to study for your course(s)?
- Have you reviewed the syllabus to ensure you are aware of important due dates?
- Do you feel that you are on track to reach the goal you have set for yourself?

Next Steps

To prepare for next week, ask students to:

- Bring a personal device.
- Bring their course syllabus.
- Inquire if their course instructor has a time recommendation for studying outside of class.
