

Week 18: Looking Toward the Future

Topic Focus

Celebrating success!

No matter the outcome of the concurrent enrollment course, it is important to take time to celebrate the work a student put into the course. By celebrating, you are recognizing everything that the student achieved in the past semester.

Celebrating with the student provides them with support and the encouragement they may need to take the next steps in continuing their education.

Discussion Starters

Consider starting the discussion by asking:

- You have completed the course! Have you taken time to celebrate?
- How have you celebrated your achievements?

Discussion Questions

To guide this week's discussion, consider asking some of the following questions:

- Did you meet the goal you set for yourself in this course?
- What are your plans for future concurrent enrollment courses or college?
- Have you applied to a concurrent enrollment course for next semester?
- You should feel proud about this semester, have you shared your success with anyone?

Next Steps

Remind students to:

- Celebrate all the hard work they put into the course.
- Turn in any paperwork for next semester's concurrent enrollment courses.
- Schedule necessary meetings with advisors or counselors.
