

INBOX DISASTER

Directions: Read through the following email. Mark up the words, phrases, or sentences that stand out to you. Think about how you would feel as an instructor when you read this email.

New message

To drporter@k20.ou.edu

Subject About My Paper Grade

Prof Porter,

Honestly im kinda confused and lowkey annoyed about this grade 😞

I looked at the rubric like 5 times and its still super confusing. Stuff like "analysis" and "development" is so broad it could literally mean anything. I tried following it the best I could but some of it just didnt explain enough.

Also you wrote "unclear" on my paper like 3 different times. But thats not really helping me understand what was wrong. If you already know what was unclear why not just say what it was? Cause rn im just guessing.

And the evidence thing doesnt make sense either. I had 3 sources and quotes in my paper. Maybe they wasnt the strongest sources ever but its still evidence 😞 so im not really understanding why I lost points for that.

Not trying to be rude but the grade feels kinda unfair tbh. I spent alot of time on this paper and did what I thought the rubric was asking for. Then getting points taken off for stuff that wasnt explained very clearly.

I really need this grade looked at because my scholarship depends on it. Like actually. If I lose it idk if I can stay in school next semester. Which is stressing me out alot rn 😞

I think once we meet and go over everything you'll probly see where im coming from because some of these comments and point deductions just dont add up. Especially the evidence part.

Hopefully this can get fixed before final grades are put in because honestly. I dont even know what im suppose to do if it doesnt.

Thanks, Taylor Morgan

Send

