

LETTER OF INTRODUCTION

Hi I'm Janelle,
I really hope that you are doing very well.
And if I'm honest, I don't like talking about myself.
I mean, I don't know what things I should show and tell.
So could we talk about something else?
No? Oh well.

I'm short and sweet.
I also mean that literally because I'm under 5 feet.
I try to spread positivity to everyone I meet.
Some say I have a friendly personality,
Though my brother and sister would probably disagree.

If you want to know, I'm the middle child of a Filipino family.
I like to make people smile, and I used to have a strawberry allergy.

I'm not perfect.
As you can see,
I can be a little weird
But let's be clear,
I can be serious when I need to be.
I like to embrace my quirky qualities.
So here I am, at 1 AM, trying to write a song that's all about me.

I play the guitar,
As though that's not obvious,
But hey, it's a start.
Anyways, I like anything that has to with the arts,
Like singing, acting, or doodling,
Or drawing, painting and songwriting,
All I think can capture the heart .

I hate to get up early in the morning, but I wouldn't call myself a night owl.
Musical theatre is my everything, and I'm a leftie who prefers pen over pencil.

I'm not perfect.
As you can see,
I tend to digress,
Oh, and I'm obsessed with reading romantic comedies.
I tie my hair up because its always messy.
And that's okay 'cause at the end of the day, there's nobody I'd rather be!

My biggest pet peeves are when someone plays their music too loudly, or when my hands gets too sweaty.

My dog makes me happy. I'm not an athlete. My favourite food is grilled cheese. I have an irrational fear of zombies.

I'm not perfect.

Essentially,

I'm nothing more or less

Than the best version of the person that I can be

Self-introductions are my enemy

But here I am, at 1 AM, writing a song that's all about me.

Writing a song that's all about me!
