

TRUE FOR WHO?

1. Discuss the statement. What kind of situation was it made in? Who made it or would make it? What were people's intentions and goals? What was at stake?
2. Reflect on the statement and decide for each viewpoint: Would this person think this statement is true? False? Uncertain? Why?
3. Determine as a group where each character would fall for the statement. Circle the characters for whom the statement would be true. Cross out the characters for whom the statement would be false. Leave the characters for whom the statement would maybe be true or false.
4. Write down any notes from the discussion that you feel are important and would want to remember.

STATEMENT	CHARACTERS: TRUE FOR WHO?	NOTES FROM DISCUSSION
The littluns need a babysitter.	Ralph Jack Piggy Littluns Simon Samneric
Jack is the best leader.	Ralph Jack Piggy Littluns Simon Samneric
Piggy is the smartest boy on the island.	Ralph Jack Piggy Littluns Simon Samneric

Ralph is the most rational boy on the island.	Ralph Jack Piggy Littluns Simon SamnEric
The boys should first concern themselves with building shelter.	Ralph Jack Piggy Littluns Simon SamnEric
The boys should first concern themselves with finding food sources.	Ralph Jack Piggy Littluns Simon SamnEric
The boys should first concern themselves with exploring the island.	Ralph Jack Piggy Littluns Simon SamnEric
Piggy does not really know what he is talking about; no one should listen to him.	Ralph Jack Piggy Littluns Simon SamnEric

Jack is a bully.

Ralph
Jack
Piggy
Littluns
Simon
SamnEric