

VIDEO NOTES

"Most Important Information:" Who, What, Where, When, and Why

Use between 25–45 words.

If you are using this to form an argument, use this portion to make a bold statement based on your opinion. For example, "The Cold War affected American citizens"

"Essential information:" Add details to the story, background information, or evidence supporting your statement in this portion of the pyramid.

"Extras:"

Add interesting facts here. You can also relate the event to other events and to your own life. If you are writing a persuasive piece, you may use this portion to conclude your argument with a strong opinion based on the facts in the essential information.