

GOVERNMENT IN DAILY LIFE

Time	Your Action	How is this impacted by the government?
6:45 a.m.	The alarm on your phone goes off at 6:45 sharp.
7:05 a.m.	You take a vitamin supplement prescribed by the doctor.
7:07 a.m.	You check the weather before leaving. It is supposed to rain today, so you grab an umbrella!
7:20 a.m.	You get in your car to drive yourself to school.
7:45 a.m.	You park the car and grab your things to walk up the ramp into the main doors.
8 a.m.	You are greeted by one of your favorite teachers as you enter your history class!
10:20 a.m.	You enter third period and review for the upcoming state test you will take soon.
11:30 a.m.	You head to the cafeteria to eat lunch with a friend. They are serving your favorite meal! The lunch worker reminds you to choose a vegetable or fruit.
1 p.m.	It begins to rain, and you receive a Flash Flood warning on your phone.
2:45 p.m.	You head to the local restaurant you work at to pick up your paycheck. You are off today, but you say hi to a coworker as she is cleaning off a table.

Time	Your Action	How is this impacted by the government?
2:57 p.m.	You deposit the check at the bank.
3:30 p.m.	Your car's gas tank is low, so you pull into a nearby gas station to fill up. You notice that the Powerball is up to nearly $200 million!
5 p.m.	The rain has cleared up, so you decide to take your dog for a walk before dinner. You take the sidewalk to avoid puddles on the way to your local park.
5:18 p.m.	You enjoy the fresh, clean air while your dog splashes around.
6 p.m.	When you arrive home, you smell dinner. Your dad has made delicious chicken and potatoes!
6:45 p.m.	Your grandma tells you to check the mail for a letter.
8 p.m.	Your family switches on the TV to watch the news. There was a horrible flood in another state and the president is promising help is on the way.
9:25 p.m.	You check one of your social media accounts before putting your phone away.	