Parlay

Parlay is an inclusive, student driven platform that allows teachers to facilitate virtual round tables. These discussions can be facilitated in both a verbal or written format.
Summary

Parlay is an instructional tool to make discussions more inclusive and student-driven. Students can utilize embedded conversation scaffolds to share ideas, elaborate and build on peer submissions, and anonymously provide constructive feedback. Teachers are able to access and edit the library of community-created, ready-made discussion prompts, create their own unique prompts, and access data from round table discussions, which they can highlight with their students when discussing areas of success or growth needs.

Procedure

1. https://parlayideas.com/
2. Create an account
3. Watch the instructional video that pops up on your screen.
4. Decide how you want your students to participate, written or verbal.
5. Explore the library of community-created discussion prompts by selecting “Parlay Universe” underneath the triple bar.
6. Choose a prompt or modify one to fit your needs by selecting “Use This Topic”.
7. Create your round table by assigning the discussion prompt to a course.
8. As you facilitate discussions:
   1. Students are highlighted to show who wants to speak next
   2. Students have to be intentional and substantive
   3. Complete In-person or asynchronously
   4. All audio and video assets are virtual.
