

GROUP ACTIVITY ARGUMENTS

ARGUMENT 1

Schlotsky's serves the best sandwiches of any restaurant.

The best thing about Schlotsky's is their selection.

They have all kinds of sandwiches to choose from—something for everyone!

Another great thing about Schlotsky's is that they also offer pizza.

If someone doesn't like sandwiches, they have other options if they eat at Schlotsky's.

Some may say that Subway is better than Schlotsky's.

However, because Schlotsky's offers so much variety in their sandwiches and other options, it is a more preferable lunch location.

For these reasons, Schlotsky's is the very best place to get a sandwich in Norman.

ARGUMENT 2

The Harry Potter series consists of the best fantasy novels ever written.

First, Harry Potter is the best because the characters are so relatable.

Like so many people, Harry is capable of true greatness, but he is also flawed.

Another reason Harry Potter books are the best is because they address difficult issues in a way that is ultimately uplifting.

For example, Harry suffers through the loss of his parents, his godfather, and several other people important to him, but he still manages to save the wizarding world as well as to go on and have a happy life.

Some may say that the Harry Potter books are still too new to have achieved real greatness.

However, the books have now been around long enough to impact an entire generation of children, who are now adults, and who have been impacted by the powerful stories of Harry and his friends.

For these reasons, the books of the Harry Potter series are the greatest fantasy books ever written.

ARGUMENT 3

Flamingos are the most interesting of all birds.

A fascinating fact about flamingos is that their pink and orange coloration is caused by the food they eat.

This beautiful color and its cause make flamingos especially unique.

Another interesting fact about flamingos is that they stand on one leg to conserve body heat.

Standing on one foot just to stay warm takes dedication and talent!

Some may say that other birds are more interesting—for example, peacocks and their beautiful feathers—but flamingos are both beautiful and special.

For these reasons, flamingos are the most interesting of all birds.

ARGUMENT 4

Great Danes are the best breed of dog to have as a pet.

One reason Great Danes make terrific pets is that they are very emotive.

It's as easy to decipher a Great Dane's feelings as it is to decipher a fellow human's feelings!

Another reason Great Danes are amazing pets is that their sheer size and level of alertness make them intimidating guard dogs.

No one is going to want to break into a house when they see a 120 pound dog looking out the window, which Great Danes do all the time.

Some may say that Great Danes are too big to have in the house, and therefore do not make good pets.

However, Great Danes are actually very lazy and prefer to relax on a dog bed, rather than running or digging like smaller dogs.

For all of these reasons, Great Danes make the best pets of any dog breed.

ARGUMENT 5

Netflix is the best television streaming service available.

One reason Netflix is the best streaming service is because it is so inexpensive, costing as little as $7.99 per month.

Customers definitely get their money's worth, considering that just buying a movie or a season of a television show on DVD can easily cost several times that amount.

Another reason Netflix is the premier streaming service is because of the wide variety of movies and shows it offers its customers.

The list of categories to choose from is seemingly endless, and the movies and shows within those categories, even more so. The options run the gamut of genres and cover decades of television.

Some may argue that Hulu is a better option for streaming since show often appear more quickly, rather than having to wait until the conclusion of a season, like on Netflix.

However, the options on Netflix are much more extensive and stay available longer than on Hulu, making it a more worthwhile investment.

For all these reasons, Netflix is the absolute best streaming service available on the Internet today.
