EXAMPLE/NON-EXAMPLE JOB RESOURCES-DEMANDS

	Example/Resource	Non-example/Demand
Social      Co-worker support     Supervisor support     Team atmosphere     Team effectiveness     Role clarity     Fulfillment of expectations     Recognition
<ul> <li>Connection</li> <li>Organizational Leadership</li> <li>Communication</li> <li>Alignment</li> <li>Trust</li> <li>Justice</li> <li>Fairness</li> <li>Value congruence</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Inspiration</li> <li>Personal Resources <ul> <li>Resilience</li> <li>Self-efficacy</li> <li>Optimism</li> <li>Flexibility</li> <li>Setting one's own limits</li> <li>Proactivity</li> <li>Goal directedness</li> <li>Self-development</li> </ul> </li> </ul>

Schaufeli, W. B. (2017). Applying the job demands-resources model: A 'how to' guide to measuring and tackling work engagement and burnout. Organizational Dynamics, 46(2), 120-132

