

Putting teachers, students, parents,
and community members' goals
and well-being before my own.

Focusing on teaching and learning practices.

Building capacity for change and improvement and empowering others to take on decision making.

Focusing on managerial tasks that keep the school running.