

QUESTIONS: ROUND 1

Ask your partner the following questions. Think about your experience with facilitating student discussion as you respond.

- During discussions, do your students stay on topic?
- Do you enjoy having discussions in your classroom?
- Do your students enjoy having discussions in your classroom?
- Have you had successful discussions in your class?
- Do you think student discussions help students learn more?

QUESTIONS: ROUND 1

Ask your partner the following questions. Think about your experience with facilitating student discussion as you respond.

- During discussions, do your students stay on topic?
- Do you enjoy having discussions in your classroom?
- Do your students enjoy having discussions in your classroom?
- Have you had successful discussions in your class?
- Do you think student discussions help students learn more?

QUESTIONS: ROUND 2

Ask your partner the following questions. Think about your experience with facilitating student discussions as you respond.

- What do discussions look like in your class?
- What is an example of an unsuccessful discussion from your class, and why do you think it was unsuccessful?
- What is an example of a successful discussion from your class, and what factors contributed to its success?
- Why is it important and beneficial to have productive classroom discussions?
- What are your biggest obstacles to facilitating productive student discussions?

QUESTIONS: ROUND 2

Ask your partner the following questions. Think about your experience with facilitating student discussions as you respond.

- What do discussions look like in your class?
- What is an example of an unsuccessful discussion from your class, and why do you think it was unsuccessful?
- What is an example of a successful discussion from your class, and what factors contributed to its success?
- Why is it important and beneficial to have productive classroom discussions?
- What are your biggest obstacles to facilitating productive student discussions?