

Consent to Participate in Research about QUEST

[School Name] and The K20 Center are doing research about how families are preparing for college. As part of this research, we are also studying how parents use and perceive QUEST, a phone application called QUEST designed by the K20 Center.

If you agree to participate in this portion of research regarding QUEST, you will be asked to briefly review the QUEST application or learning module. Next, we will ask you open-ended questions regarding your experience using the QUEST phone application, how relevant and useful the content on the application is, and suggestions for how to improve QUEST for parents and families preparing students for college.

- There is no benefit to participating.
- As compensation for participating, you will receive a GEAR UP/K20 promotional, branded item (e.g., insulated drink tumbler, t-shirt, etc.) commensurate with University of Oklahoma guidelines: <https://tinyurl.com/bddf6m8n>
- Your participation is voluntary.
- There is risk of accidental data release and participant identification if questions and responses are audio recorded.
 - If this occurred, your identity and the statements you made could become known to people who are not on the research team. However, to limit and prevent these risks, researchers will transfer and store data on secure platforms approved by the University of Oklahoma's Information Technology Office using password protected accounts.
- All responses are confidential. Identifying information will be removed for analyzing data and publishing data from this research. Unless you tell researchers otherwise, responses will be used word for word in university research reports.

I can be reached at scott.wilson@ou.edu or 405.325.2608 if you have questions or have changed your mind regarding participating in this research study. You can also contact the University of Oklahoma's Institutional Review Board at 405-325-8110 or irb@ou.edu.
