

STATEMENT #1

Positive teacher-student relationships thrive when the classroom feels like a community.

STATEMENT #2

Classroom procedures and rules should be established through collaboration with students as students are more likely to adhere to rules they have helped to create and understand.

STATEMENT #3

Providing praise for correct and expected behavior rather than correcting poor behavior can increase student engagement.

STATEMENT #4

Effective and clear rules and procedures enhance student sense of support, enthusiasm, and engagement.
