Summary

Do you enjoy painting, chalking, drawing cartoons, or creating digital artwork but are unsure what careers these interests can lead to? If so, you're not alone! It's a common myth that art is only a hobby. In reality, there are many career opportunities that people with creative skills can pursue, including painting, graphic art, set design, animation, and illustration. This activity will help you learn more about careers in art and how to set yourself up for success on the path to those careers!

Overview

Do you enjoy painting, chalking, drawing cartoons, or creating digital artwork, but are unsure what careers these interests can lead to? If so, you're not alone! It's a common myth that art is only a hobby. In reality, there are many career opportunities that people with creative skills can pursue, including painting, graphic art, set design, animation, and illustration.

Professional artwork can be found everywhere. Consider the murals that you might see on buildings in your community, the animations on the video games you play, the pages of your favorite comic books, and even the billboard advertisements posted on streets and highways. This activity will allow you to explore artwork from different cultures, recreate a piece of artwork, and hear from an Oklahoma-based graphic artist.

What to Do

Move to Activity #2: Art Creation (page 13).

Finish with Activity #3: Career Talk and complete the 3-2-1 writing reflection (page 15).

Check out more careers from the Art, A/V Technology, and Communications cluster in the Extend section (page 16).

Activity #1: Virtual Art Tour

First, let's take a virtual tour to view art from around the country and the world. There are eight different art options provided for you to explore below or on pages 5-12 of the attached activity booklet. Click the link below each picture to see more images from that art category.

Take your time and note the pieces that you connect with the most and why. What message do you think the artists wanted to send with their work?

Use the table below to keep track of the websites for your favorite artwork (also located on page 4 of the activity booklet). You can copy and paste or write down each website and take notes about the artwork that you find interesting. You can also list the websites on a separate piece of paper and take notes there if you prefer.

After viewing artwork from at least three of the websites, select one piece that you would like to recreate before moving on to Activity #2.

Activity #2: Art Creation

For this second activity, you will use the artwork that you selected from Activity #1 to help you create your own masterpiece. Before you start creating, examine the chart below to learn more about the different types of art that you have viewed.

Visual Art Categories
Type	Description
Mural	A work of art that is usually large and created directly on the surface of a wall, ceiling, or other permanent surface.
Painting	A type of art created using paint. Some examples of styles of painting include still life, landscape, seascape, abstract, and pop art.
Drawing	A hand representation of any form or object made using items like pencils, pens, or charcoal.
Portrait	A painting, drawing or photograph of a person that usually includes only their head and shoulders.
Graffiti Art	Pictures or words that are painted or drawn directly on walls, buildings, or trains. Artists often use spray paint to create their work.
Street Art	Pictures or words that are painted or drawn directly on walls, highway overpasses, or sidewalks. Street artists often use their art to address societal issues and promote discussion. Artists often use chalk, LEDs, stickers, yarn bombing, or wood blocking.

Visual Art Categories

To create your own art piece, select one of the four options included below. Be creative and don't forget to give your art piece a title!

- Option 1: Paint using watercolors on paper or canvas.
- Option 2: Use chalk on dark paper or a sidewalk near your home with permission from a parent or guardian.
- Option 3: Draw on paper using markers, crayons, stencil pencils, etc.
- Option 4: Use items from around your home to recreate a portrait and take a selfie or photo.

Below is one example of how others have used different materials from their home as props for their portrait photo. To see other examples, click HERE or go to <https://tinyurl.com/artrecreations>.
