Summary

You can assign articles to your students that match their reading ability by lexile level. You can also create classes through Newsela and receive analytics from assigned articles.

Procedure

1. Create an account and use your school email address to get full articles.
2. Search either the Library (past articles), News (current articles), or Text sets (includes numerous articles about a particular subject).
3. To share the article, you can download, print, or assign your chosen article through a class you create at Newsela.
